

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Most advertising agencies believe they know your business better than yourself, always daring to be different, attempting to win awards and spending your money without concern.

John Counsel is different. He listens to you, and he argues if logic requires. He uses logic combined with creative thinking to achieve the desired result.

John has succeeded for us where others have failed.

Our marketing campaigns have continuously hit our target audience and have caused a positive response as a direct result of John's approach.

He does not spend your money unnecessarily and can work well on tight budget jobs.

We thank John for the success he has brought us.

Yours faithfully,
