To Whom It May Concern,

The astute advertising acumen and creative skills of John Counsel are held in the highest esteem in this company.

John had come very highly recommended, but only after others had tried and failed to satisfy us with their recommendations. We gave him what we considered (and had proven for others) to be an unusually difficult brief with a tight time frame attached.

We were not merely satisfied, but amazed and delighted with the speed at which he grasped the essentials of the task before him and generated rationale behind his recommendations, which proved to be right on target.

What he created for us achieved results greater than we had ever hoped.

With appreciation and thanks, John.
